NEW YORK, July 23 (Exchanges).—Germany's new ocean liner, Imperator, ramped into port today at half a dozen trans-Atlantic docks, after a 10-day voyage. It was written into her logbook: "The first time the ship has been the proud queen of the seas. With her 10,000 tons, 100,000 horsepower, 100,000 gallons of water, but clearing 100,000 tons of water, she is a new measure, clipped by the wind, she has the power to make the trip from New York to London in 4 days, 17 hours, 43 minutes."

Until this afternoon the Cunard-Magnificent was the speediest liner, holding the record of 3 days, 3 hours and 34 minutes. The Imperator clipped eight miles on the last day of this record.

The new North Carolina Lloyd Bremen also broke all records in a single day's run, leaving Massachusetts at 10:30, and arriving at an average speed of 27.80 miles an hour, or almost thirty miles, for the entire trip.

OPERATIONS ON BOARD

Through the Bremen's device for putting an airplane from the deck at a trans-Atlantic mail service, the Imperator also was established for smoothness, according to passengers, and a major operation was performed on a woman passenger as she lay in a hammock. There also was no need for any land hospital.

DANNEMORA (N. Y.) July 22.—With no possibility of having their sentences increased if they complied with the terms of the parole law, the inmates of Dannemora prison today, after a strike which at least temporarily halted the work of the prison, elected a group of delegates serving life sentences at Clinton prison today led 1300 inmates in a futile attempt to gain the top of the prison walls and the open country beyond.

In the riot which ensued the convicts fired a prison shop, smashed the dynamo providing the prison with light and power, injured two guards and forced prison officials to summon assistance from the outside.

When the smoke lifted the rioting convicts faced a reinforced, heavily armed guard posted on the prison walls, and marched back to their cells, leaving three of their number dead in the prison yard. Twenty convicts immediately being taken to the hospital to undergo treatment for gunshot wounds.

WARDEN'S STATEMENT

A statement issued after the riot had been quelled, Warden Haskins said that trouble had been caused by the crowds and that the warring firms of discontent had been fanned by a group of "lifers" to a civilian prison. The prisoners were being disciplined. Today's riot call showed 115 prisoners serving a life sentence, 410 serving 10 to 20 years or more, and 1,000 with 1 to 10 years, for a total of 1,565 inmates.

Thirteen hundred convicts took part in the riot, which broke out at 10 o'clock. The hall for the evening this morning with no warning indication that trouble was brewing. At the close of the meal the prisoners were allowed to go their way to the various shops, but they reached the yard they began suddenly and without warning in rushing into the ranks in an effort to reach the engineers and return them to the shop.

The trouble was quickly and badly beaten. Ernest Brewster and Arthur Murphy were attacked and injured.

One group of convicts set fire to the carpenter and weaving shop, while another raided the power-house, smashing the dynamo and cutting the insulation without lights or electric power.

Under cover of the smoke screen on the burning shop three groups made a dash for the three walls, ignoring the whistle signal ordering them to return to their cells. As they attempted to scale the twenty-foot stone walls of the bars they met the met the concrete fire of the machine guns on the wall armed with machine guns and machine guns. Their use of the human-ladder method of reaching the top brought them directly in the line of fire and they

Meanwhile, the prison alert called out its signal of a "prison task."

AID ARRIVES

In Dannemora, men and boys stopped their work and, seizing weapons, rushed to the prison to quell the riot. From J. Edgar Barracks, thirty-five State Police officers, armed with automobiles, while the outside police hastened to Dannemora, men either parts of the north county, local residents, cleaned out the stock of two hardware stores for firearms and ammunition for the defense of the prison walls.

Two companies of the Twentieth United States Infantry from Pittsburgh Barracks under command of Maj. Max W. Sullivan and Sgt. Richard S. Moore arrived at the prison, but were unable to participate in the quelling of the riot because of absence of orders from Washington.

A group of convicts took refuge at a storehouse, but later surrendered.

About noon two companies of riot police, who had returned to their cells, leaving only the determined convicts still milling out the yard. An hour later they too gave up the struggle and returned to their cells, leaving behind

SOVIET PATROLS CAPTURE TWO CHINESE VESSELS

Woman and Baby Passengers Held; French Profiter of Peace Office Rejected

KEEPING (eking) July 22. (X)—Soviet troops patrolled the Amur River, which skirts Northern Manchuria, have captured the Chinese River steamer Hsia, taking prisoner the wife and baby daughter of Yaw Talbot, American.

The Russians sent word to Talbot, who is Deputy Commissioner of Chinese Maritime Customs at Tachien, across the Amur from Blagoveshensk, that both were "comfortable and being treated kindly."

George C. Hanson, American Consul at Harbin, Manchuria, wiring official reports of the capture here, said friends of Talbot at Harbin said Mrs. Talbot is of Russian birth.

The Russians also have captured the Chinese merchantman Hancheng, which they are holding near Blagoveshensk.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

The first attempt to settle peacefully the dispute between Russia and China has failed, although renewed assurances were given yesterday that neither country will resort to war unless overt acts are committed against it.

The government of the soviet union disclosed that France has offered its good services to mediate in the conflict growing out of the dispute between China and the Russian administration of the Chinese Eastern Railway in Manchuria. At the same time Russia announced it cannot accept the offer because China has refused to restore the status quo that Russia demands as a preliminary to negotiations.

Neutral observers. Peking (Peking) from information from many sources, reached the conclusion there have been no clashes between Chinese and Russian troops on the frontier of Manchuria. Most of the rumors have come from Harbin, where they were accepted by the

TOBACCO KING'S SON HELD

LONDON, July 22. (AP)—Defended by the best of legal talent, Richard James Reynolds, 23 years of age, described as the son of the late R. J. Reynolds, American tobacco magnate, went on trial today in Old Bailey a manslaughter charge resulting from an accident last May in which motorcycle rider was killed.

Mr Henry Maddocks, K.C., Crown

Reynolds's companion on the day in question, said that he and Reynolds

...told the men and women of the jury that the death was caused by criminal conduct," Reynolds said. "I was drunk," he said, "and I was the prosecutor," and his drunkenness was the cause of that young man's death."

Reynolds denied that he had admitted to the jury that he was drunk. Norman Birkett, K.C., one of the defense lawyers, said the judge had said "two or three times" "Pimmas Number One." The judge responded, "I do not suppose the ladies of the jury are very young; let us be clear: it is not to be described." Bargeat explained that "pimmas" were lemonade with gin.

Testimony was introduced to show that the front of Reynolds's auto-

who was for years chief of the Bureau of Entomology in the United States Department of Agriculture, says should cause any man in the world to stop and think.

Anatomically and physically, says Dr. Howard (using his own words), the insect type has great advantages over the human type. In small size, in enormous fecundity and rapidity of multiplication, in power of speedy adaptation to conditions, in powers of concealment, in rapidity of flight and locomotion, the insects are vastly superior.

Howard paints a gloomy picture of the future of the human population of the earth, at its present rate of increase, will exceed food possibilities in a hundred years. That's a pleasant prospect, isn't it? But, what it means is that the insects will conquer us sooner than expected unless we find a way to annihilate them.

The only persons in America who are facing the problem are the entomologists whom our government appears to treat shabbily. Viewed from the other side of the coin, it would seem as harmless nuisances to whom pennies are doled out as a rich man would dole to his poor relations.

I found these devoted folk in poor quarters, some of them rented quarters, while the Army and Navy, the Treasury, the Department of State and the other arms of government are quarreling peacefully.

It is as though Mr. Rockefeller handed a dime to the doctor who cured him of chronic stomach trouble and kept him fit to play golf at 90 years of age.

And speaking of golf, I wouldn't wonder if the poor entomologists may be able to find the golfers in alliance with them, with the result that more money to fight insects will be forthcoming from Congress.

THE JAPANESE BEETLE

The golfers are already worried that the Japanese beetle now attacking wide areas of the country will destroy the greens of the golf course. While I was in Washington the visitor from Japan was playing havoc with lawns and other things. There it is chewing up the grass in front of the White House, regardless of the sacrifices.

The excitement of the populace and the perturbation of the people did not seem to find the golfers as it was when the Confederate Army threatened the capital three years or so ago, but they were annoyed, anyway, which is something.

This Japanese beetle is not to be laughed at. It is so named because it appears to have originated in the islands of Japan.

It is probable that the pest reached this country through the importation of plants from Japan. Its presence here was first discovered, curiously enough, in a nursery near Riverbank, Ill., in 1917. It quickly spread over the States and invaded Pennsylvania, in which section it continues to this day its frightful depredations. Everything has been done to

All Cars Sprayed in Battle on Fruit Fly

State Troopers Disinfect Automobiles Each county line within the fruit-fly-infested area of Florida is the dead line for transient fruit flies and their larvae trying to pass from one county to the next. Vehicles are stopped and thoroughly sprayed with insecticides in the effort to kill them.

Of what necessity to us are the peach, apple, grape, plum and the like, needs no argument. Their money value to the grower, the shipper and the market stalls runs into the millions annually.

Upon them the insect world preys ceaselessly everywhere they grow. They not only destroy the fruit but also kill the trees. The peach borer, for instance, which the entomologists describe as "the larva of a beautiful clear-winged moth," has laid waste countless orchards during the century and a half it has established itself in this country.

A beautiful thing, but deadly. The borer of the nut, which is to say the San Jose scale, is a notable pest. There is an appalling list of these insects, known familiarly to the scientist. Crowding the borer for the most destructive of the branch of the insect race, is the boll weevil. The terrapin scale, squash bugs, blister beetles and a vast host of others help divide the spoils that man's labor and his hopes were expended upon.

Now, if you would but know even a little of all the entomologists know you would understand why a garden is such a trouble to grow. You would never believe how many little specks of things there are that invade your garden.

HOST OF ENEMIES

Turning from things that eat to things that wear you come upon other vast tribes of insects—moths, weevils, roaches and armies of bugs. The most famous, as well as the most destructive of the branch of the insect race, is the boll weevil. I met a man in Florida who told me he was driven out of Georgia by the boll weevil. Which is to say the insect destroyed his cotton crop and thus ruined his business. It causes an average loss of $300,000,000 a year in the cotton industry. The most cotton planted, the greater the loss, depending, at the same time, on whether the season be hot or cool.

This is a famous bug and it should be agreeable to the population outside the cotton districts to know a little more about a pest that puts a market value on the shirt and clothes a lot of people wear. This arch criminal belongs to the beetle family, and it is easy to see what a beetle looks like by consulting an illustrated dictionary.

The entomologists know all about him, except how to get rid of him. And they will yet find out how to do that, but the trouble is that just when they are bent on the study of one insect an epidemic of others breaks out somewhere.

And there are only a few entomologists. The government doesn't think it worth while to employ more. Money is needed for war ships, automobiles, airplanes and postoffice buildings.

There are more lawyers than farmers in Congress. More politicians.

Well, what entomologists have been able to muster to this point in the life history of the boll weevil to the earth.

It is by birth a Mexican and his folk first immigrated to this country in the year 1922, crossing the Rio Grande near Brownsville, Tex. His tribe rapidly increased. By 1922 they were established in a section of territory 514,313 square miles in extent.

Latter statistics were not available to me. Perhaps it has been found a waste of time to make further tabulations.

This Mexican weevil has an Arizona kin bug that fed on a wild plant related to cotton, and that readily attacked cultivated cotton when fields were planted north of Tucson nine years ago.

In winter the insect seeks shelter in hedges, woods, haystacks, farm buildings and other places where it goes into hibernation. Lots of the weevils die during the winter, but a sufficient number pull through to breed and start millions of new ones in business.

Working as a perfect army, the insects leave nothing unattacked. Even the beautiful shade trees are not spared.

ENTER THE GYPSY MOTH

The entomologists tell us of an eccentric astronomer who had a fanciful idea that he could cross the gypsy moth with silkworms. What he had in his head does not seem clear. Maybe he thought he could produce some kind of near-silk, or a better silk.

Anyway, this man caused to be brought from France to Boston in Massachusetts six clusters of the gypsy moth. A few years afterward, in the summer of 1889, the gypsy moth overran the neighborhood of the fruit and shade trees and swarmed into the homes of the people. Trees died and property depreciated in value.

This destructive caterpillar has since invaded portions of New York

WINSTON-SALEM (N. C.) July 22. (AP)—Richard Joshua Reynolds, on trial in London for manslaughter, is a son of the late R. J. Reynolds, founder of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company. It was stated here today.

Young Reynolds is one of the largest stockholders in the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, and in recent years has been interested in aviation. He is an official of the Curtiss Flying Company of New York, and through this company owns and operates a Curtiss field and a number of other aviation fields throughout the country.

When Reynolds was first arrested in England none of his friends or relatives would say whether or not the accused man was the son of the late tobacco magnate. George Orr, an attorney for the Reynolds estate, left here recently for London to assist young Reynolds.

RUSSIA SCORNS PEACE GESTURE

French Offer to Mediate Draws Refusal

Troops Continue to Move in Border Region

Rumors of Clashes Said to be Unverified

It has declined an offer by France to mediate in the Manchurian conflict.

This action is said to have been due to refusal of the Chinese authorities to restore the status quo on the Chinese Eastern Railway in Manchuria as demanded in the Soviet note of the 13th inst.

The Soviet note of the 13th inst., to answer which China was given three days, demanded three things. One was that a conference be called immediately to regulate all phases of the dispute, another that the Chinese authorities immediately cancel "all arbitrary orders" regarding the railway, and lastly that all Soviet citizens arrested should be released immediately and Soviet citizens and institutions protected henceforth.

The Chinese answered, just within the three days, with two demands calling for the release of all Chinese imprisoned in Russia and adequate protection for Chinese nationals.

Following delivery of this note, which in Moscow was held to be unsatisfactory, Russia broke off diplomatic relations with China and the latter took similar action on the following day.

CHINA STANDS READY TO INVOKE LEAGUE AID

NANKING (China) July 22. (AP)—China tonight stands ready to summon the aid of both the League of Nations and the Kellogg pact to maintain peace in her dispute with Russia over the Chinese Eastern Railway.

Foreign Minister Wang of the Nationalist government announced tonight that "China will appeal to the League of Nations in connection with the Russian crisis if the Soviet violates the spirit of the Kellogg pact."

In addition the Nationalist government plans to send Moscow a note reiterating its desire to settle the dispute by peaceful negotiation. This note is being drafted and is expected to be sent tomorrow.

It further is surmised that the Nationalists will express the hope in the note that Moscow will see fit to send a plenipotentiary to Harbin for discussion of the situation with a similar plenipotentiary from China.

Shao Min, Chinese charge d'affaires at Moscow, who now is in Nanking, is understood to be leaving immediately for Harbin in the hope that Russia will agree to send a representative. The government is ready to send him on to Moscow, if necessary, in order to hold the conversations.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED

A statement from the Chinese League of Nations, characterized as "an act of self-defense," the arrest of Soviet officials and employees of the Chinese Eastern Railway and of other trading associations.

It reiterated that the action should not be regarded as a seizure. Chinese authorities, it said, will soon publish evidence to show a Soviet conspiracy "to change the safety of the Chinese government; to organize a corps of assassins who were to be active in Nanking, and to injure the Chinese Eastern Railway."

The arrest of the Soviet Railway and Trading Association officials and employees is alleged to have been "merely the timely prevention of activities which were dangerous to the safety of the Chinese government, state and indeed, society."

"Our coast defense guns are quite capable of holding off enemy battleships, but the real danger would be from bombing planes, which could wreak havoc with the canal if a sufficient number got past the air defenses. In addition to members of the Diplomatic Corps and other notable, former President Coolidge, Secretary Stimson and former Secretary of State Kellogg are expected to attend the ceremonies Wednesday.

The trip to Washington of the former President is dependent upon the condition of his wife's mother, Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, who is seriously ill.

President Hoover has invited the Diplomatic Corps and others to a luncheon after the ceremony and this is expected to bring every head of a mission in Washington who is still in the United States here for the ceremony. NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—The Kuo Min News Agency today published a Shanghai dispatch saying that Nanking government is publishing in installments documents seized in the Russian Consulate at Harbin, Manchuria, on May 31. It is said that much material was burned while the raiders were held out by barred doors and that preparations for burning were apparent after entry by the Chinese.

Among the papers seized was an asserted memorandum of "steps to be taken toward world revolution by the eastern third Communist organization." These steps included expulsion of all foreign capitalists from China and confiscation of lands and property of "oppressive landlords."

It is charged that secret codes of the Communist party were found on some of the forty-two persons arrested.

Chinese action in expelling the Russian administration of the Chinese Eastern Railway was based on their charges that the administration had furthered Soviet propaganda.

ZOO CAN'T SLEEP SINCE BOA GULPED BLANKET
CINCINNATI, July 22. (P)—A boa constrictor with an army blanket in its coils drew the services of servants at the Cincinnati Zoo here as it lay in evident pain, but the snake still held the blanket
after futile efforts to remove it.
S. A. Stephens, general manager of the Zoo, summoned the twenty-four-foot reptile in an alligator tank, placed a hood over its head, and attempted with the aid of ten men to work the blanket out. That failing, Stephens inserted into the snake a tube with a metal inside, but was unable to catch the blanket and pull it out. A half gallon of oil then was poured into the snake to relieve it. The blanket caught in the serpent's fangs Friday as it struck at a piece, and was swallowed with the blind. J. H. Fox, carnival operator, paid $1000 for the boa a few weeks ago, he said.
The blanket set-up can be arranged to permit building the additional equipment for use this summer.
The speed engines now in service
are stationed at Riverside, Ukiah, Auburn and Bakerfield.
Other new trucks of the same type are needed to work out of Hendling and Santa Cruz as quickly as possible, State Forester M. B.
Pratt declared.
The fire trucks are specially built to meet field and forest fire requirements. They carry a 275-gallon tank of water, which can be filled either by pumping from a stream, by gravity flow or from a city fireplug. Their equipment includes connections for several lines of small hose, cross-cut saws, axes, sledge, wedges, crowbars and powerful searchlights for night work.
The trucks were built for the State Forest Service, planned by Prof. J. B. Fairbank of the State College of Agriculture, and Russell
Steinacker, engineer of the State

Negotiations Under Way on Trade Concessions
LENINGRAD, July 22. (P)—Traveling in great comfort with all the conveniences and luxuries of Russia can afford, the unofficial American delegation of about 100 men and women business representatives, engineers, lawyers, journalists and educators arrived here today for a two-day visit.
The party traveled from Moscow, where it arrived last week. The train consists of eight of the government's finest equipped sleeping cars and two dining cars. A staff of interpreters and special attendants is accompanying the visitors.
The soviet tourist bureau imported $1500 worth of American coffee, cigarettes and cigars so the visitors would not lack these articles during their month's tour.
Never before in soviet Russia has any foreign mission, not excepting the large British trade delegation which was here recently, received such constant attention from the

STRONG CROP'S PRETTY WEAK
Early Garlic "Sunburned" and Late Growth Hard Hit by Recent Hot Spell
SACRAMENTO, July 22. (P)—The strongest crop harvested in California promises to be weak this year—for the early garlic was "sunburned" and late garlic is "weak"
what stopped by this heat wave, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Bureau announces.
But if you're short of garlic
there will be plenty of onions.
The onion crop is reported to be 80 per cent of normal, and on top of that the bureau states that $1,000 bushels of "Spanish onions" have been imported into the United States from Spain.
As an indication that the mission is not entirely pleasure-hunting, fifteen business men among the party already have started preliminary conversations with chiefs of the soviet trade department with a view to obtaining concessions. Some of the members of the mission have remained in Moscow to continue these negotiations.

UNITED EUROPE IDEA DISSECTED
Varied Reception Accorded to Briand's Project Small Nations Voice Fear of
New Domination
Workers, However, Hail Plan
as Cure for War
PARIS, July 22. (P)—Proposals for the organization of a "United States of Europe" or a "co-operative Europe," which are expected to be outlined at the League of Nations Assembly in September by Foreign Minister Briand of France, have met with mixed reception in continental countries.
Although M. Briand carefully has insisted that the broad outline of his plan does not embrace the formation of a new political institution with a Parliament and a President, information received in League of Nations circles, under the aegis of which the new organization would be attempted, indicates that some publicists in smaller countries fear the plan would be tantamount to a new domination by the great powers in European affairs.
DISPLEASURE FEARED
Danger of incurring the displeasure of the United States of America also is mentioned as one of the liabilities of the scheme.
On the other hand the idea already has received enthusiastic support from other sections of the continent where the opinion is expressed that a "co-operative Europe" deemed a better title than
"United States of Europe," is bound to come anyway, that M. Briand sawed this and is convinced the moment has arrived to guide the movement into desirable channels.
Workers in various countries are said to be enthusiastic about the plan, believing it means prosperity and reduced chances of war.

100,000 USERS—NOT ONE HAS SPENT A DOLLAR FOR SERVICE

THE ONLY ALL-STEEL REFRIGERATOR rugged, warp-proof, durable

THE General Electric—the first and only refrigerator built entirely of steel. It is as strong as a safe. It cannot warp. Its doors and sills, faced with warp-proof Textolite, cannot sag. It keeps cold in and heat out more effectively than any cabinet that has ever been sold. It maintains perfect health-guarding temperature with the smallest amount of current.

And the mechanism of the General Electric—how far ahead of the field that is! All enclosed in an hermetically sealed steel casing—unusually quiet, self-oiling, dust-proof—with an easily accessible temperature-control. It is mounted on top, out of the way... leaving the maximum room inside the cabinet for food storage.

Another advantage of the General Electric is the fact that it is portable and needs no more "installation" than an electric iron. It is merely plugged into any electric outlet. It is mounted on legs, with lots of broom-room under it. It is easy to clean because all its interior corners are rounded.

As evidence of guaranteed reliability—there are now more than 300,000 users and not one has ever spent a single dollar for repairs.

See all the models, and be sure to ask about our plan of conveniently spaced time payments.

This is Model G-135, one of the largest models in the General Electric All-Steel line, designed for large homes. Note that it has two freezing units with a capacity of a gallon and a half and storage trays for 112 ice cubes. It has a shelf area of over 22 square feet. The doors are edged with hinged strips, which make a striking contrast to the gleaming porcelain interior and the snow-white "Sani" exterior. The complete weight of this de luxe model is 418 lbs., giving some idea of thickness of insulation and the sterling materials used, yet it costs but $328 and this cost may be budgeted so that it amounts to but slightly more than $12 a month. Here indeed is lifetime refrigeration at a price which almost reaches the vanishing point when spread over the number of years it will serve you and your family.

FRATERNITY MEN RAISE CRY FOR SANE CLOTHES

CHICAGO, July 22. (Exclusive)—Clothes make the man. Today they did more than that. With the help of a 50 deg. temperature they had him all hot and bothered. Seven hundred members of the local alumni chapter of Delta Upsilon, a college fraternity, decided to do something about it.

"In the interests of health, simplified clothing is a vital necessity," President John D. Scott, told his sweltering brothers. "Not only would we feel better, but lives would be saved. We can get good ideas from the tropics."

"For instance, we might adopt the attractive oriental pith helmet, closely woven of light straw and covered with white linen."

"We should abandon all stiff collars, lay off our coats and wear an ensemble of shirt and trousers,

ENGLAND FACES DROUGHT CRISIS

Government Action Planned to Protect Industry

LONDON, July 22. (AP)—The government is to take up the question of relieving the shortage of water which has become serious throughout England by reason of the long drought.

Lord Privy Seal Thomas, who is charged with relief of unemployment, said that unless there is a break in the drought large numbers will be thrown out of work. He did not indicate what steps the government should take but it is supposed to be in the direction of public works for better storage and distribution of water.

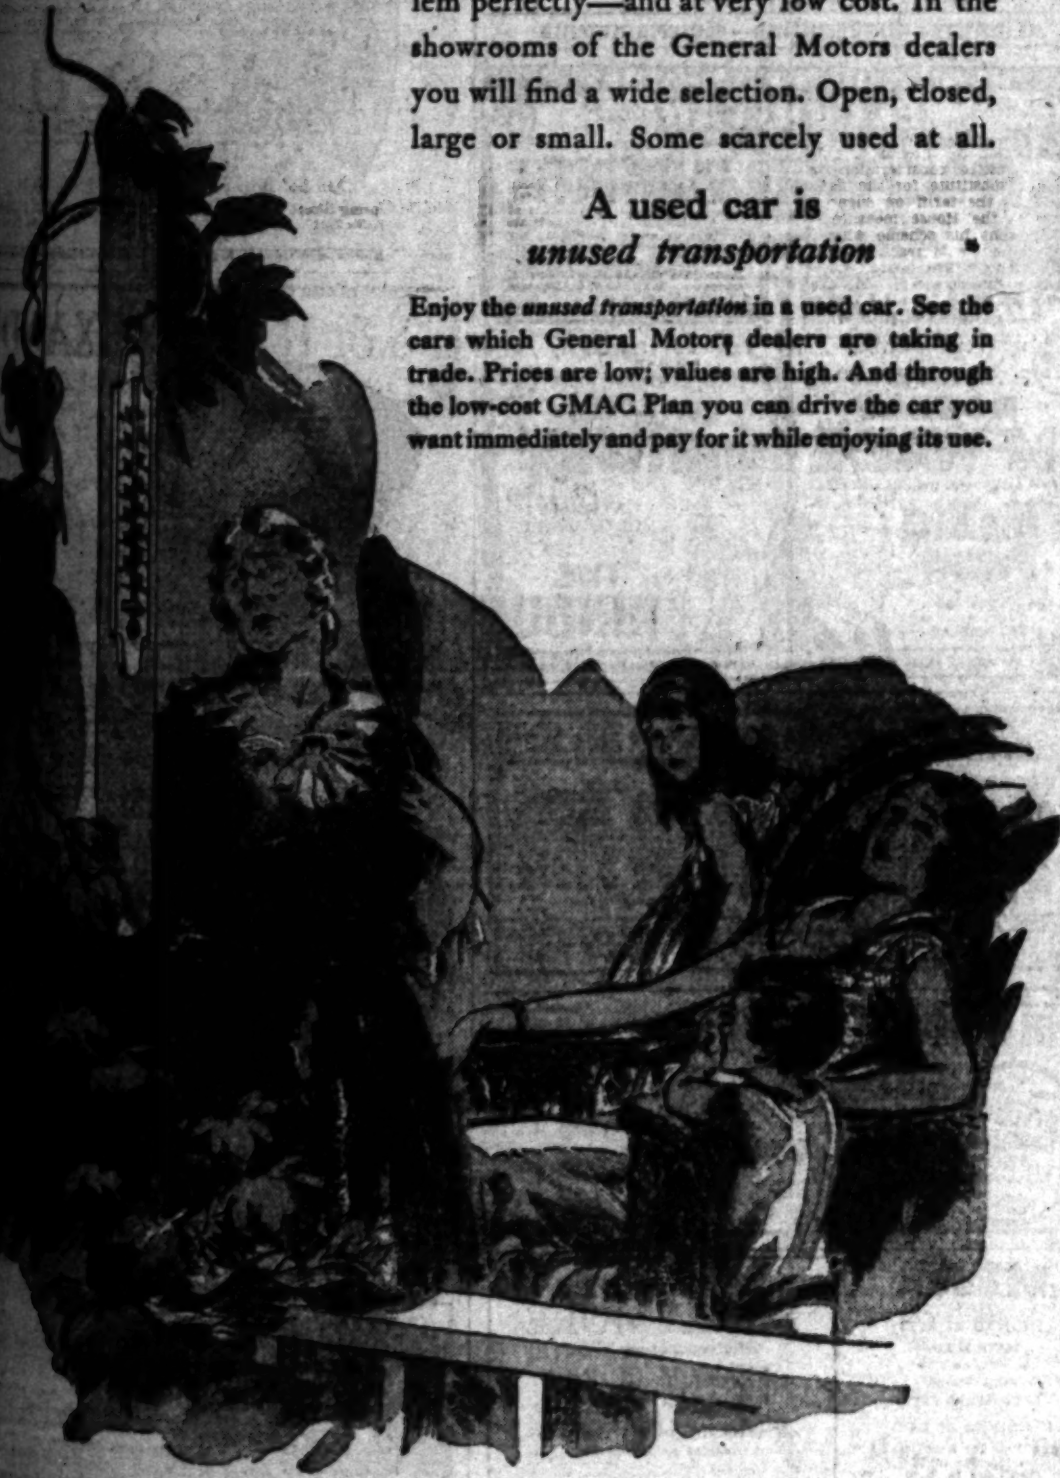

IT'S HOT! Cool off in a good used car

WHAT a blessing a long, cool ride in a car would be! But the family car is parked downtown near the bread-winner's office, waiting to bring him home.

A used car would solve this family's problem perfectly—and at very low cost. In the showrooms of the General Motors dealers you will find a wide selection. Open, closed, large or small. Some scarcely used at all.

A used car is unused transportation

Enjoy the unused transportation in a used car. See the cars which General Motors dealers are taking in trade. Prices are low; values are high. And through the low-cost GMAC Plan you can drive the car you want immediately and pay for it while enjoying its use.

The IMPROVED PERFORMANCE of a MILLION MOTORS TOLD the STORY

FAR ahead of previous records—with demand still increasing at a rate that sets a new pace for all motor fuels, the sudden success of VIOLET RAY anti-knock Gasoline seems almost startling.

Yet there is a simple explanation of the swiftly increasing preference motorists are showing for Violet Ray.

It is this: the motorwise and critical automobile owners of the West tried Violet Ray and found it to be exactly what the General Petroleum Corporation claimed—anti-knock, pure, quick-starting, full of power, economical.

The improved performance of a million motors told the story.

VIOLET RAY anti-knock Gasoline is the superlative fuel for all automobile engines. Made without addition of chemical compounds—poisonous or otherwise. Nothing is added but the violet color—and that for your protection. Worth a premium but sells at the price of ordinary gasoline.

Product of General Petroleum Corporation of California

A million motorists are finding that they need not pay premium prices for fine performance. VIOLET RAY anti-knock Gasoline...today's best motor fuel...is sold for the price of ordinary gasoline.

Service for Motorists!

The very keystone of the Sunday Times new Automobile Section is its constant assistance to the buyer of cars, and the user of cars.

Its presentation of the motor market—in makes, models, and prices—makes your selection of the EXACT car an easy matter.

Its weekly suggestion of unique trips, good roads data, and seasonable recreation announcements make it possible for you to get PLEASURE DIVIDENDS from your car, impossible while it stands in the garage for lack of an objective.

Its information service on new statutes, and law interpretations regulating motoring—and its advertising announcements of car accessories and improved equipment—make reading it a positive INSURANCE against missing some vital motoring knowledge.

Constant SERVICE to motorists—buying service, pleasure service, information service—this is the keystone of the new "Section VI," in next Sunday's Times—the Motoring and Outdoor Section, which thousands of motorists await in keen anticipation.

LASKY PREPARES MUSICAL REVUE

James Hall to Play Leading Role; Sally Blane and Hugh Trevor Form New Film Team; Universal Engages Music Head ed as an outstanding comedy success in the talking field.

Al Jolson, May Sing

It is probable that Al Jolson will sing a couple of numbers in Warner Brothers "Show of Shows," musical revue. According to studio report, Jolson has not as yet consented to perform, but is dabbling with the idea.

At any rate, Bull Montana is definitely slated for appearance in the musical show. Bull is featured in particular in one number with three male choruses.

NEW TEAM FORMED FOR "JAZZ HEAVEN"

A new team has been organized. Sally Blane and Hugh Trevor are to be co-featured in a series of R-K-O. features the first of which will be "Jazz Heaven," to be put into production in about ten days.

The linking of these two young people together comes as a result of their work in R-K-O's "The Very Idea," from William LeBaron's comedy, with Frank Craven directing.

Sally is a petite baby star of this year, while young Trevor is the tall, good-looking college youth type.

Celebrities Keep Coming

And still the celebrities continue their trek westward!

David H. Broekman, one-time conductor of the Dutch Royal Opera, a noted musician and recording artist, has just signed a five-year contract with Universal Pictures to take entire charge of musical matters at the West Coast studio, according to wire reports from the East last evening.

Broekman left New York for Hollywood yesterday, accompanied by his musical staff and own library, assembled over a period of years in Holland, Belgium, England, Germany, France and America.

Regarded as an authority on motion-picture music copyright as affecting foreign lands, Broekman received his musical education at the Royal Conservatory at The Hague, and early in his career, toured Europe as a first violinist with the concert Beggar Orchestra under the leadership of Willem Mengelberg. He has taken high rank as a pianist, but his larger experience has been as an orchestra conductor.

Class Bow at Work

After a five weeks' rest, during which period she found time to announce her engagement to Harry Richmond, New York musical comedy star, Clara Bow went back to work yesterday on the Paramount lot.

Clara began her rehearsals with James Hall, her leading man, on "The Bachelor's Holiday," which A. Edward Sutherland, instead of Richard Wallace as previously announced, will direct. Wallace, according to word, with the consent of the adaptation, Winifred Eaton Reeve the continuity, both collaborating on the dialogue.

Hale and Quillian

For the first time, the laugh-making talents of Alan Hale and Eddie Quillian are to be employed in one picture.

Pathe has seen fit to join these two in a 11-11-talking, singing special called "Up and At 'Em," which Joseph Franklin Poland and William M. Connelman are preparing.

The work of Hale in the forth coming "Salon's Holiday" and Quillian in "The Sophomore," with Leo McCarey, is responsible for the decision of General Manager William Sistrum to exploit the two in the special. Connelman and Poland, incidentally, worked together in the writing of "The Sophomore," touché.

FOUNDER OF RAISIN DAY FETE DIES

James Horsburgh, Jr., Was One of State's Earliest Fruit Exploiters

PALO ALTO, July 22.—(Exclusive)—James Horsburgh, Jr., father of Raisin Day and the raisin festival and retired general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific Company, died last night at his home on Stanford University campus. He was within two weeks of being 73 years of age, his birthday being August 2. He was a pioneer in the work of advertising California and the Pacific Coast. He entered the Southern Pacific service as a clerk in the passenger department in 1872 when the company's headquarters were still at Sacramento. He was closely associated with the late E. O. SPITE BLAMED FOR SHOOTING

McFarland Resident Shot in Back at Ranch

Confessed Slayer Gives Up to Deputy Constable

Charges Victim Blackened His Character

BAKERSFIELD, July 22.—(AP)—Shot in the back as he sat on the bank of a reservoir, conversing with friends, Yardenian, 35 years of age, of McFarland, was instantly killed last night at the P. M. Peterson ranch, northwest of McFarland. A few minutes later, Mike Gastian, 40, of Wasco, surrendered himself to Deputy Constable Oscar Sudeen of McFarland and, according to official reports, admitted the killing.

A grudge of long standing which already had resulted in two bitter quarrels, was responsible for the slaying. Investigating deputy sheriffs reported today after returning from the scene of the fatal shooting. The two men had been quarreling earlier in the day, and according to one report, Yardenian had attempted to run over "Big Mike" as Gastian called him in the McFarland district, with an automobile.

Gastian had gone to the Peterson ranch early in the afternoon. Yardenian arrived about 6 p.m. As the two men and several others were sitting on the bank of a reservoir, Gastian arose, with the remark that he intended to get a can of tobacco from his machine. According to witnesses queried by the District Attorney, he returned with a gun in his hand, and said: "What have I ever done to you?" and fired. A .38-caliber bullet entered Yardenian's back, passed directly through his heart, and out of his body.

The asserted slayer jumped into his car, drove to McFarland and sought Constable W. H. Osborn. Failing to find him, he surrendered to Deputy Constable Sudeen and later was brought to the County Jail here.

Gastian is said to have declared that Yardenian blackened his character and ruined his reputation so that he was unable to find employment.

BOARD CUTS OIL RATES FOR STATES

Arizona and New Mexico Get Freight Reductions from California Points

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(AP)—As a result of action brought by the Arizona Corporation Commission, the Interstate Commerce Commission today ordered a reduction in freight rates on petroleum products from Southern California points to destinations in Arizona and New Mexico. The commission ruled that the present rates, which went into effect August 8, 1926, are unreasonable.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe and other railroads are directed by the commission to put into effect by September 30, next, rates on refined oil in carloads not to exceed 70 cents per 100 pounds from Southern California points to Arizona. From Southern California to points in New Mexico, the new rates are not to exceed 80 cents per 100 pounds.

The commission ruled that on distillate in carload lots, the rates should not exceed 80 per cent of the rates on refined oil. The present rate to Arizona on refined oil is 93 cents and to New Mexico it is 95 cents.

On shipments which moved before August 1, 1926, the rates were awarded on the ground that rates becoming effective on that date.

FIGHT ENDS PARADE OF DUKHOBORS

Anger Over Burning of Schoolhouses Leads to Attack on Sect

REGINA (Sask.) July 22.—(Exclusive)—Anger over the burning of ten schoolhouses in the district, residence of Kamack, Northern Saskatchewan, attached followers of the Sons of Freedom movement with fire-fighting equipment Sunday afternoon when they attempted to hold a parade.

Feeling ran high as the parades were given a thorough soaking from two hoses, the demonstration ending in a first fight when the Dukhobor banner was torn down by the infuriated mob. Clubs were wielded freely, but outside of a few bruises no casualties occurred.

During the past few weeks six schools in the Kamack district have been burned mysteriously, while four in the Blaine Lake area have been similarly destroyed. The Dukhobors are suspected due to the fact that they have voiced strong opposition to the present educational system and in many cases have refused to send their children to school. During the week a large contingent of Dukhobors arrived at Kamack from British Columbia, headquarters of the sect. There are believed to have originated the demonstration. Police are searching for the ringleaders.

TRIO SEEKS LIONS WITH LASSO GUN

New Weapon to be Used by Eastern Sportsmen on Quest in Arizona

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) July 22.—(AP)—Armed only with a gun which shoots a lasso instead of a bullet, a party of hunters set out toward the Prescott district today in a hunt to capture live mountain lions for the new Chicago Zoo.

Members of the expedition, who arrived in Prescott Sunday, are C. C. Mitchell, Detroit manufacturer; Carey Orr, cartoonist of the Chicago Tribune and Lawrence Jones, building contractor of Philadelphia. Ramsey Patterson, famed lion hunter and guide of this section, heads the expedition.

The gun which the hunters carry discharges a spring arrow attached to a 10-foot rope. When the rubber tip of the arrow strikes its mark, the impact causes a black cartridge to be fired, releasing a three-foot circle of rope and allowing the loop to spread and slip over the animal.

The hunter can shoot with as great accuracy, it is asserted, at 100 feet as a lasso can be thrown at twenty feet.

48 YEAR TRIBUTE to the Angelenos from 48 States

Today—A Dedication to the Societies of Seven Atlantic Seaboard States

One hundred thousand people from the nation's Eastern seaboard in Los Angeles! Pioneers all... whether they came long ago in covered wagons or whether they come today on wings of the air.

"Knickerbockers" from New York... leaving the prestige of a world metropolis... the charm of Sleepy Hollow... the "Empire State" rich in Americana from Colonial days onward.

From "The Garden State," New Jersey... with a motto of "Liberty and Prosperity"... they have come to find vaster, renowned gardens of the West in California.

Pennsylvania, the "Keystone State"... sends its historic memories of that glorious July Fourth, when the Declaration of Independence was signed in Philadelphia... of the Liberty Bell that pealed forth the news.

From Virginia, the "Old Dominion," which produced such names as Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Patrick Henry... from patriotic West Virginia, Delaware, and Maryland... to California.

To Pennsylvania belongs the honor of being the first to organize a State Society in California and to lead in what has proved a great and unique movement. A band of newcomers whose foresight and vision brought them to the West... realizing that the sight of a familiar face... the joy of talking about places and happenings remembered in common made the new land seem "homier." Following in Pennsylvania's lead came other state organizations and societies... then their inevitable union into THE FEDERATION OF STATE SOCIETIES, with headquarters in Los Angeles.

Host to the nation... organized purely in a spirit of friendship and service, it cultivates social intercourse among its members and visitors in Southern California with its now famous State picnics attended by thousands... with its get-togethers, where the stranger finds himself amongst his own... where friendships of long standing are renewed and acquaintanceships grow into friendships.

"To promote sociability, good fellowship, fraternity and patriotism, and to keep alive and preserve the tender memories, ties and friendships of the old home state"... this is the object of this splendid institution with a constituency of people from the colds of Alaska to the Southernmost tip of the country... from the Atlantic to the Pacific. An object, too, that has been a vital factor in building Los Angeles to the happy striving city of homes and endeavor that it is today.

This is the second of a series of May Company editorials in celebration of the 48th Birthday, commemorating the founding of the Hamburger Store in 1831. This series is dedicated to The Federation of State Societies, Los Angeles' host to 48 states. See yesterday's evening papers for the tribute to New England... watch for your state.

ONE OF MISSING WOMEN FOUND

Searches for Rich Heiress and Another Fail

Local Bank Ends Its Quest for Miss Wolfkill

Motive for Disappearance Now to be Sought

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22. (Exclusive)—The location of one of three missing women in Central and Northern California was established today but two others remain unaccounted for.

Mrs. E. E. Knight, 71 years of age, missing from the home of her son in Villa for two days, was located at the home of a friend where it was said she had taken refuge after a quarrel.

Search for Miss Irene Wolfkill, 200,000 heiress missing eight days from her ranch home at Fairfield, was concluded as far as her business guardian, the Citizens National Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles, is concerned, but preparations were begun to search for her if possible, a motive for her disappearance in the belief such information may lead to her present whereabouts, alive or dead.

This procedure will be launched, according to M. A. Harris of the Burns agency, by an interview with Mrs. Oscar Ritzsch of Los Angeles, who was discharged as housekeeper and nurse to Miss Wolfkill the 2nd inst. by Miss Wolfkill, brother and personal guardian of the missing heiress. Harris said he believes Mrs. Ritzsch can supply personal information about Miss Wolfkill that will be of value in the formulation or disproof of two theories of the disappearance.

Mrs. Ritzsch, Harris said, was friendly with Miss Wolfkill, and he believes that friendship at least partly responsible for her discharge. That which has been considered the best clue to the missing heiress collapsed today when footprints believed to have been made by her were traced to the wife of a rancher who had participated in the search.

Hope of finding Mrs. Nancy Howe, 77 years of age, mother of Albin, alive in the hills near Fort Bragg faded as the ninety-sixth hour passed with no success in a determined search of brush and canyons for miles around.

SCHOOL HIT BY LEGION WILL CLOSE

Asserted Red's Camp for Children Infested by Scarlet Fever

HEALDSBURG, July 22. (AP)—While Department of Justice agents prepared to investigate the activities of an asserted "Communist camp for children" near here, county health authorities announced it would be closed Saturday on account of scarlet fever.

The camp, brought to attention of Federal authorities recently by the Healdsburg post of the American Legion through the charge that Communist teaching was given the children there, was found to have six cases of the malady, authorities said.

The six children, whose names were withheld, were taken to their homes in San Francisco, while the health department announced the camp would be closed Saturday and all children sent to their homes. Maury Martin, head of the school, said the fever outbreak would not interfere with the classes, that the children would raise the red flag, and sing the "Internationale," red hymn, and parade daily, as long as they remained there.

Fear of Violence as Negro in Alabama Starts Trip Brings Precautions

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) July 22. (AP)—Companies I and L of the One Hundred and Sixty-seventh Infantry, Alabama National Guard, are being mobilized at the armory here to go to Montgomery at 4 a. m. tomorrow and accompany Lester Bouyer, negro slayer, to Clayton, where a grand jury is to investigate his case.

The order was issued by Gov. Graves at Montgomery last night at the request of Barbour county (Ala.) authorities, who declare the presence of guardsmen will be necessary to preserve order when the negro arrives from Kilby prison at Montgomery.

Bouyer is charged with slaying Jack Ryan, mechanic, and an assault upon Miss Beatrice Clark, his 18-year-old companion, on an automobile ride three weeks ago. State officers say he confessed shortly after his arrest.

California is sending many tourists to Utah this season, he stated.

WICKERSHAM'S IDEA EXPLAINED

Methodist Board Interprets "Modification" Reference

Suggestion That He Meant Liquor Let-up Scouted

His Use of Word in Question Declared "Unfortunate"

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—The Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals, in its latest publicity "clipsheet" gives its interpretation of the much-discussed reference to "modification" of the prohibition laws in the letter of George W. Wickersham, chairman of President Hoover's law enforcement commission, read at the recent governors' conference.

In that letter, addressed to Gov. Roosevelt of New York, the commission chairman suggested that enforcement responsibility be divided definitely between the Federal and State governments and that, if this were done, "national and State laws might be modified so as to become reasonable and enforceable."

"Mr. Wickersham," the Methodist board says, "makes use of the unfortunate word 'modification' in a paragraph which seems to suggest an adjustment of State and Federal

SQUIRM WHEN SLEEPING, ADVICE OF PHYSICIAN

PITTSBURGH, July 22. (AP)—The importance of ordinary noises in the disturbance of sleep has been greatly exaggerated, Dr. H. M. Johnson, director of investigation of sleep of the Mellon Institute, told University of Pittsburgh summer students today.

Experiments have shown that if a person in good health goes to bed at 10 o'clock his slumber will be the deepest in the first half hour, which begins about 10:40.

The chief physical disturbers of sleep are irritating changes that are set up in skin, muscles, joints and internal organs by merely being kept still for considerable times, the speaker said, adding the most refreshing sleep is that which is interrupted for brief periods from two to six times an hour, by a change of position that brings relief.

to security from depredations of the liquor traffic are ignored, the Federal government has the unpleasant duty to intervene, but it is in all cases an unfortunate necessity and greatly to be deplored.

The statement says "it is not at once apparent why the enforcement commission chairman's suggestions 'should be considered revolutionary'."

FRENCH SENATE TO DEBATE DEBT

Ratification Discussions Will Open Today

Brilliant Leaders Expected to Voice Views

Illness May Keep Poincare Away from Session

PARIS, July 22. (AP)—The French Senate will inaugurate debate on ratification of the Mellon-Berenger debt settlement bill at 3 p. m. tomorrow.

The Finance Committee today recommended adoption of the text of the bill exactly in the form it was voted by the Chamber of Deputies early Sunday morning.

The Senate debate promises to be of a high-class character as among the speakers are former President Millerand, Senator Berenger, who negotiated the accord with Secretary Mellon, also former Premier Caillaux, who failed in his attempt to settle the debt question on his now memorable trip to Washington.

Like the Chamber, the Senate will have to ratify the Mellon-Berenger accord in the absence of Premier Poincare, who is not expected to be recovered sufficiently in health to attend the session.

"Making Thrift Fashionable"

No. 5 in a series of messages to investors from the President of S. W. STRAUB & Co.

"R. H. MACY & Co. have been running a brilliant series of advertisements, recently, which carries the slogan 'It's smart to be thrifty.'"

"This slogan strikes me as being particularly apt as a message to people with money to invest. One often hears a man tell about certain speculations that he has made—and when he tells about them, they were always successful. When they are not successful, however, most people show an extreme reluctance to discuss their speculations at all.

"When I look over the records of the thrifty, conservative men and women who have been buying bonds from Straus offerings for a great many years, patiently adding to their holdings and reinvesting the money their present holdings yield, it seems to me these thrifty men and women have a very real claim to 'smartness.'"

"The fashion for thrift among the thousands of Straus customers is a fashion that endures and deserves to endure, because it is based on enlightened common sense. For many years, S. W. STRAUS & CO. like Macy's, has helped to make thrift fashionable."

SIGNAL HILL OIL ROW IN COURT

Early History of Section to be Recalled at Trial

Company Seeks to Quiet Title in "Frog Pond" Area

Case of Unusual Character Attracts Interest

Early days in the history of the Signal Hill oil field, particularly that part of it known as the "Frog Pond," are expected to be recalled in the hearing of the suit brought by the Dekey-Johnson Oil Company against H. H. Hitchcock and some fifty or sixty other defendants which went to trial yesterday before Superior Judge Desmond. The action is one brought to quiet title to property acquired by the company from Burton Benwell. It is located in the area known as the Frog Pond along Atlantic avenue. The outcome will be watched with the keenest interest by persons interested in oil and oil lands, as a unique question is involved. The question that confronts Judge Desmond for a decision is whether a transfer of interest in oil land, executed after the signing of a lease attaching to the property, is limited by success or failure of the lease, whether because of the language of the conveying instrument, or circumstance attaching to the transaction, there is an actual grant or permanent transfer of an interest in the hydrocarbon content of the land. WELL SUNK 4000 FEET According to the records in the case the property, on January 19, 1923, was owned by Burton Benwell, who leased it to Henry Noonan of Santa Rosa. A well was sunk to a depth of 4000 feet. In these early days of the field few of the wells went down more than 4000 feet. Later they were drilled to the deeper sands, around 7000 feet. The well was in the Frog Pond area, a district that began to go off production at 4000 feet in 1923. Noonan, it is asserted, abandoned operations after reaching a depth of 4000 feet. The various defendants in the suit are assignees of percentages in the property, originating before Benwell leased it to Noonan. COMPANY GOES DEEPER The defendants assert that since they took the assignments for the land from the owner and not from the lease the conveyances they received constitute a grant of real estate. The plaintiff oil company, however, asserts it is the owner of the land in fee and free from the claims of the defendants and asks that the court quiet title to it. Since acquiring the land, the Dekey-Johnson Company has developed the field with deeper wells, going down to the 7000-foot level. The contention of the plaintiff is that the defendants' rights ceased when Noonan, the lease, abandoned development of the field. The trial will be resumed this morning.

Ruth's $75,000 Salary May Be Cut Down at End of Season

BABE REPORTED ON DOWNGRADE

Home-Run King Laid Up With Bad Charley Horse.

Manager Huggins Admits His Slugger is Slipping

Baseball Experts Look for Slash in Contract

BY WESTBROOK FIEGLER.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Miller Huggins, the manager of the Yankees, has been saying that Babe Ruth, who is now ailing again, has reached the point where decline begins.

Mr. Babe is down with a Charley horse, and the photographers get a picture of him this morning, sitting at home wearing a domestic expression as his bride, Mrs. Ruth, sits beside him.

There is no way to doctor a Charley horse, although it will do for a picture in the papers.

ON WAY DOWN

There is a rather strong propaganda going just now to the effect that George Ruth has played his best seasons and is of not much account any more, and I have a notion that this sort of thing did not merely spring into circulation spontaneously.

At the time of his injury Babe was hitting .330, being one of the three regular members of the Yankees. He had been hitting as high as .300, and he had committed twenty-two home runs.

Of course, the home run has lost its value since the Yankees' season, and there is even some evidence that the baseball proprietors are tired of it.

The intramural morning over the passing of Babe Ruth is a last winter. About the time that the baseball players were training for the South to absorb the sun, Mr. E. C. Barker, the business manager of the Yankees, let fly an opinion which appeared to be quite uncollected, that Mr. Babe had played his last season and would never again be the man or the attraction that he used to be.

This was interesting in view of the fact that this was to be the last year of George Ruth's three-year contract with the firm at $75,000 a year.

Mr. Barker is a large, thick man who never played baseball in person, and he has never had any illusions of heroism about the baseball players, including Mr. Babe, who worked for him in Boston, where he inherited a champion team from Will Carrigan.

Mr. Barker's interest in baseball has been the same as that of Barney Dreyfus of Pittsburgh and the late Mr. Charles Ebbetts of Brooklyn, which is to say a turnstile interest. Old Mr. Ebbetts always thought the "biggest" players were always much more beautiful than the players' uniforms, and the "biggest" players were beautiful little deers to him, whereas the "biggest" players were only a dark exclamation, flared with slipper duckboards.

I do not know just what is fair and what is unfair in the course of a wage-war between a $75,000-a-year ball player whose contract is running out in a year of illness and comparative mediocrity and the business manager.

SAVED SPORT

I have always thought that from 1920, when he hit fifty-four home runs and made the customers of both major leagues forget the suspicions engendered by the White Sox fiasco, and the reason for it, Mr. Babe should have received no less than $100,000 a year. It is patently true to give away the magnates' money, but it may be remembered that the business manager was in a very bad way at the time and that George Ruth put millions of people in mind of home runs and baseball.

But Mr. Babe did not get $100,000 any year. For several seasons he lacked the imagination and the audacity to realize what enormous receipts he was attracting to the turnstiles and he was playing on such terms that the proprietors could pay him off for a whole season with the receipts from a single day's attendance. Finally he got a manager who gave him some idea of his own value and he was induced to hold out for a three-year contract at $100,000 a year the last time he talked business with the management. But when the Babe walked into the office and was offered $75,000 he took it and walked out.

DECLINE BEGINS

Notwithstanding his hitting of 350, the management seems determined that this year shall mark the beginning of his decline and it may be assumed that his wages will decline proportionately if not more so.

The general topic of wages is the most fascinating topic there is for the largest number and the subject of Mr. Babe's wages is more interesting than Mr. Babe himself. His pay of $75,000 is what I would call upper-case wages, and it will be very depressing, indeed, to learn such a notable figure has been cut.

ter, who shared the singles burden with Tilden against Germany and won both his matches, is generally regarded as a "sampler's" choice.

Hunter ranked one notch above Lott on the national singles list, his position being No. 3 and No. 4, but the official opinion apparently is that Lott is capable of rising to greater heights of tennis.

The Chicagoan thus is being given preference and his first real chance on the international field after occupying the background for several years.

FINE RECORD

Lott's record bears out the reasons for his choice.

The western youth at one time or another has beaten nearly all the national stars, including Tilden and La Crosse, last year.

Lott won the national doubles championship with John Hennessey and was a member of the Davis Cup team until the challenge round at Paris.

REPLACEMENT SURPRISE

TO FRENCH NET FANS

PARIS, July 22.—(AP)—Replacement of Francis Hunter by George Lott on the American Davis Cup team tonight caused more comment in French tennis circles than the definite news that Rene La Coste would be a member of the defending team.

Apparently surprised by the switch in the American line-up, L. F. G. Ollivier, captain of the French team, said he was not at all surprised.

MALCEWICZ READY FOR GO

Challenger Completes Training at Long Beach for Tilt With Sonnenberg

Joe Malcewicz has completed his training work for his best two-out-of-three-fall finish title wrestling battle with Champion Gus Sonnenberg tomorrow night.

The Utican held his last workout yesterday afternoon. He intends to rest until ring time so that he will be fresh when he faces the stomach-battering title-holder.

Malcewicz's final training period was a revelation to the few critics and promoters Lou Dore, who were on his hand at Long Beach yesterday.

He was said to have been the first time that the man who was really "opened up" since his last bout with Lewis here last year.

The Utican looked on his first fight as a time, and worked them out in two hours of the roughest and toughest training.

He believed he had never displayed so much power as he did last year. He was the first time that he was so vicious in the treatment of his foe, and employed as varied as

Okun Favored to Repeat Victory Over Dick Daniels in Olympic Main Event

RABBIT PUNCHES

A SENSIBLE SWITCH

GEORGE LOITZ's elevation to our Davis Cup team is a very satisfactory move, not only to young Mr. Loitz but the nation which has been howling for youth and still more youth in the personnel thereof.

While the dumping of Francis T. Hunter into the ashen in favor of Loitz may not produce a victory over the classy French team in the Davis Cup finals it at least is building a foundation for the future.

Loitz is coming and Hunter is going. Loitz has his best days ahead of him; Hunter will never achieve his laurels.

With Allison and Wines, a couple of kids, playing doubles for us, and Loitz named for the singles against France there is now only one old head left on the team—big Bill Tilden.

He is the steady influence on a team that sends three new faces against the great combination of Boness, Cochet, Bertram and Brugnon.

Big Bill in spite of his years deserves the place in the singles the committee gave him. His remarkable play against the Germans in the interspersed competition stands out like a sure thumb.

And who knows but what big Bill and the kids might rise to heights supreme and gain a victory over France that by all form charts should go to Cochet and his palant hand? That story would be one of youth all over again.

CARPENTIER ALONE

THE Olympic, which shows Yale Okun and Dick Daniels in a repeat of their recent bloody struggle, had a ten-strike in its hands tonight, but just muffed the score.

It was planned to have Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier in the ring as the real feature attraction of the evening.

The fight was to meet again for the first time in eight years within the ropes.

Eight years ago they fought for the heavyweight championship of the world and for the first prize that totaled over $1,000,000.

Dempsey has been on the ground for weeks, and Carpentier arrived a few days ago for picture work in Hollywood.

But Dempsey took another week of vaudeville at one of the beach cities, and that spoiled the menu.

He can't make the show tonight, and so the man who was knocked out in four rounds at Boyle's Thirty Acres will have to fill the bill for both of them.

However, Carpentier is a refreshing-looking ring hero, and still retains the handsome features that made him the idol of France when he was the champion of Europe and a challenger for Dempsey's crown.

FIELDS' CHANCE AT LAST

JACKIE FIELDS and Joe Dundee probably won't break any box-office records in their battle for the welterweight title at Detroit Thursday, but at least young Mr. Fields, now Finkelstein, should clearly demonstrate his supremacy of the division.

He holds the N.B.A. title and beating Dundee for what portion of the world title the Italian still retains should be easy.

Dundee has been one of the worst champions in history.

Apparently his only good fight was waged when he took the title away from Pete Lee two years ago.

He ran out of a match with Ace Haddock. He was beaten in many an over-sight bout. He was knocked out by Young Jack Thompson, unequivocally beaten twice by Fields.

As a box-office attraction Dundee is all right. What element of appeal the Detroit match holds must be furnished by Fields and the fact that a world title is at stake.

Even the better sometimes falls when one of the contestants has demonstrated his supremacy for the high honors in his possession.

A RESPECTED MAT KING

SIGNOR DOMINIQUE COEUR D'ALENE AMATUROS, the young man of the fine Italian hand who aids Carnation Lou Dore in publicizing his "raining shoes," reports that Gus Sonnenberg attracts folks in droves wherever he appears.

As a local gymnast where pictures were taken of the heavyweight mat king the native swarmed about him in suffocating formation.

At the beach where he repaired over the week-end he was the cynosure of all eyes.

Senior Amaturos is now fearful lest the cash customers bulge out the walls of the Olympic Wednesday night. So are the stockholders.

FOUR GOLF STARS

Bobby Jones and Chick Evans vs. George Von Elm and Jack Neville at the Los Angeles Country Club the afternoon of August 24. That's the line-up Scotty Chisholm has arranged for the benefit of the Children's Hospital.

It's more than a five-buck show.

Think of it—Jones, the world's champion; Evans, several times a national amateur title-holder; Von Elm, once a conqueror of the mighty Jones, and Neville, a several-time State champion.

Miramar Hlods Aquatic Meet

Open Stance Better for Short Shot

"Long Jim" Barnes, many times a champion, and somewhat superstitious, hence the search for a four-leaf clover to hold between his teeth in playing the game.

Jim's theory is—the shorter the shot, the more open the stance. It's a sound one for most golfers. But there is another reason for the open stance for iron.

Little pivot is employed in playing the iron, the club is swung entirely with the arms. In wood shots the body weight is added by means of the pivot.

To swing the arms true and with full power, especially the controlling left, the body must not be permitted to get into the way.

THE RETURN OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

GASOLINE ALLEY

Where There's a Will There Must Be a Way

The cunning eyes of the madman now fell upon the high priestess with a new and sudden lust. His hands extended, he crept toward her. Tarzan strained at the bonds that held his arms. The brute leaped past him to clutch his victim as the ape-man gave him one superhuman wrench at the throat that held him.

The effort sent him rolling from the altar to the stone floor. As he sprang to his feet the thought dropped from his freed arms. At the same time he realized that La, the priestess, and the madman had vanished. A muffled scream came from a subterranean chamber. Without a thought for his own safety, Tarzan bounded lightly down the age-old steps.

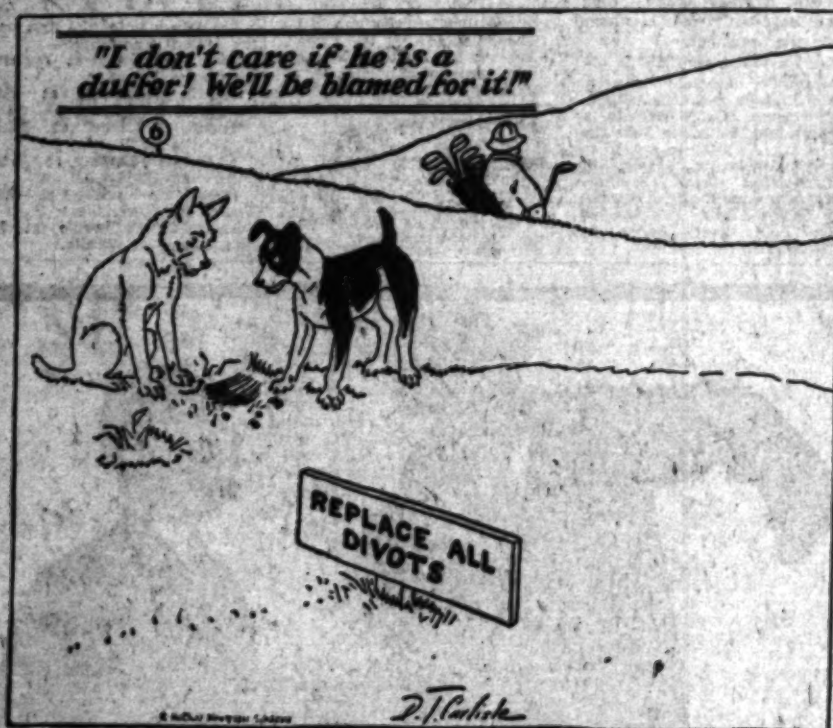

There before him was the mad brute, his gorilla-like fingers clutching frantically at the struggling girl's throat. He loosed his grasp as he saw Tarzan close upon him and turned with a maniacal cry to face his antagonist. The priestess fell from his grasp. With foam-flecked lips and fanged fangs, he leaped into battle.

The primitive priestess watched with fear-fascinated eyes the two men fighting in that low-ceilinged vault beneath the sacrificial chamber. The sun-worshiper battled with the ten-fold power of a maniac. His cries of animal rage filled the room. At last La saw her rescuer grasp the throat of his antagonist and force his head far back. He threw the still thing from him.

AUTO SOLD AFTER THREE ACCIDENTS

Helen Chandler

Three automobile accidents in succession proved sufficient for Helen Chandler, one of the youngest leading girls in motion pictures. Miss Chandler came to Hollywood from the New York stage and the first thing she did was to buy an expensive roadster. She had it two days and while learning to drive she wrecked it. She disposed of the car and bought a coupe. Meanwhile she was riding with a friend and was in another wreck. In her own car, a friend was driving and in going around a curve the door accidentally opened, throwing Miss Chandler to the pavement and seriously injuring her elbow. She says she's going to ride on street cars or in taxicabs in the future. She disposed of her car.

Sheriff's Dry Squad Reports on Year's Work

Convictions totaling 900 out of 1112 arrests made in liquor cases by the Sheriff's liquor detail during the twelve months ending the 1st inst. were announced yesterday by the Sheriff's office. Fifteen deputy sheriffs constitute the detail. It was stated that they obtained convictions in 80 per cent of the cases. Fifty-six cases were dismissed. The courts assessed fines totaling $180,000 in those cases and also imposed sentences of various lengths. The deputies of this detail worked a total of 16,230 hours to carry out their enforcement duties, the report records. In order to make the 1112 arrests they made 2940 separate investigations. Sheriff Traeger says the policy of this department is not to make raids without search warrants unless there is positive evidence that liquor is being bought or sold in regular trade.

"THERE, there, now, Patsy Anne—just go right in and sit down," said M. G. Parker of Hollywood to his baby daughter yesterday as he directed her steps into a wired enclosure. "It won't hurt you, honey; it wants to make friends. That's a little dear!"

So Patsy Anne went in and sat down, and found that it was a little deer, a rare Oostinde deer which her father recently imported from the tropical zone to become a family pet. With hesitant step the deer approached the tot, sniffed, blinked, and the friendship was cemented.

Fresno Mayor Wins in Fight to Cut Salaries

FRESNO, July 22.—What was billed as a warm session of the City Commission today (turned out to be) a cold one. A session of the Commission ended in a tie, and the result in agreement to slash the salaries of City Health Officer Carlston Mather and C. Van Valkenburgh, Civil Service examiner.

Mayor E. L. Leavelle had been advocating cutting Mather's salary from $240 to $200 a month and Van Valkenburgh's from $220 to $200 a month. In the private session he is understood to have won sufficient votes to pass his recommendation.

A delegation of doctors appeared before the Commission, urging that the Health Board budget be kept as "frugal" but failing to specify that Mather's salary be kept at its former level or that a health nurse, eliminated by Leavelle, be retained.

Van Valkenburgh is expected to resign his position as Civil Service examiner because of the cut and go back to his former post of deputy in the Department of Public Works.

She accused him of cruelty and of telling her when she was ill that she was "making heavy weather." In an answer filed by the captain he denied speaking disparagingly of her mother, widow of Talmadge, who is in Reno with her, and said his wife's "making heavy weather" had only been psychological. He did not contest the divorce.

BOARD TO HEAR TAXI PLEA

Company Operating Fords Will be Required to Show Necessity of Additional Cars in Service

The application of the General Taxicab Company, the new company operating Ford cars, for sixty-eight additional permits, will be heard by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation at a special meeting Thursday, it was announced yesterday by Secretary Herbert S. Payne.

In accordance with an order issued last week, the board will demand that the new company show that public convenience and necessity require the issuance of the additional permits. At present the company has twenty-five permits and only a small number of the additional applications were filed by the company before the board's new order went into effect.

At the time that order was issued, officials of the General company intimated they believed the board was exceeding its authority in promulgating such an order. They did not state definitely, however, that if their permits were refused they would contest the matter in the courts, and it is understood now

"THERE, there, now, Patsy Anne—just go right in and sit down," said M. C. Parker of Hollywood to his baby daughter yesterday as he directed her steps into a wired enclosure. "It won't hurt you, honey; it wants to make friends. That's a little deer!"

So Patsy Anne went in and sat down, and found that it was a little deer, a rare Californian deer which her father recently imported from the tropical zone to become a family pet. With hesitant step the deer approached the lot, sniffed, blinked, and the friendship was cemented.

According to Parker the deer is one of very few of its species known to be alive in the United States. Although two years of age, and regarded as being fully grown, it tips the scales at only seventy pounds.

Fresno Mayor Wins in Fight to Cut Salaries

FRESNO, July 22.—What was billed as a warm session of the City Commission today turned out to be tranquil when a majority of the commissioners prior to the budget session froned out difficulties and re-saluted in agreement to slash the salaries of City Health Officer Carleton Mathewson and C. C. Van Valkenburgh, Civil Service examiner.

Mayor E. A. Leymel had been advocating cutting Mathewson's salary from $340 to $300 a month and Van Valkenburgh's from $250 to $200 a month. In the private session he is understood to have won sufficient votes to pass his recommendation.

A delegation of doctors appeared before the Commission urging that the Health Board budget be kept as low as possible, but failing to specify that Mathewson's salary be kept at its former level or that a health nurse, eliminated by Leymel, be retained.

Van Valkenburgh is expected to resign his position as Civil Service examiner because of the cut and go back to his former post of deputy in the Department of Public Works.

As a result of the vote the budget was increased $1515 by minor additions. An item of $6000 for under-coverage expense in the Mayor's budget brought a protest from citizens but was allowed to stand.

Talkies Make Business for Tonsil Cutters
Tonsils and adenoids are put to rest as the talking motion pictures are concerned, and verification of this was apparent yesterday when Mickey McGuire, 8-year-old featured film player, was operated on at the Los Angeles Tonsil Hospital by Dr. Louis Levin.

Mrs. McGuire, who accompanied her boy to the operating room, admitted that officials of the R-K-O studios, where Mickey is under contract, informed her that adenoids and a microphone will not blend well. For good measure Mickey also had his tonsils removed.

"We have been having a good many of these cases," said Dr. Levin. "If you must travel with a very young baby, don't worry about bed for him in hotels. Use one of the large dresser drawers for a bedstead, and his mattress can be pulled from your own bed. He will be just as comfortable as in his crib, with no extra trouble."

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mrs. Elder will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a prompt reply.

KEEP BOY'S DEVOTION BY GIVING HIM FREEDOM
Mrs. G. J. writes: "Your department carried a letter about a mother who wanted to know how to keep her son's devotion. She can keep it by letting him love someone besides herself. This is the natural road to normal boyhood and manhood. My boy was 8 years of age when his sister came, and as his father drank, he was my only companion. I spent a large portion of my time with him and made an idol of him. He was delicate, and I encouraged the situation. My home was always full of boys but there was always something timid about my boy and I was afraid to let him go swimming or indulge in any sports in which he might get hurt."

"He got nervous and restless and the doctor advised me to turn him loose. His father reformed and we led the boy tramp in the woods and go fishing with him for days at a time. I found those lonely nights terrible, but the boy has developed physically and mentally. One must let the boy have freedom, otherwise he will stoop to trickery and lies, not because he is bad but because youth calls to youth and it is better to let him go naturally and save yourself and the child many hours of grief."

"If you favor an older child the younger one will feel jealous. My mother-in-law did this and the younger children have always felt resentful toward her. My little girl thinks I love her brother the best and I am trying to show her that I do not. I would never let the older child to me as I have this one. It is not my fault that the father a square deal, not counting the heartaches one lays up for oneself."

Answer: No one but a mother who has an only child can quite understand how hard it is to stand by and watch them weaned away, and yet that is the one and only courageous and faithful thing to do. By losing them one gains them, for the close tie of early love is changed to respect and affection because it isn't forced and doesn't bind the child to the parent. Any bond, however loving, is resented by the normal child. He wants to feel that he can go away from home, seek new companions, make a life for himself without being constantly aware that he is breaking his mother's heart. And yet all around us we find parents making martyrs of their children by just such an attitude, an unwillingness to allow them to choose their own careers if such careers cause separation. No neighborhood, however small, but contains many of the "Mother Knows Best" type of mothers who have held daughters or sons in yearly bondage and given them in exchange an idolatrous but suffocating love.

HEALTH AND DIET
ADVICE
By Dr. Frank Mc Coy

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him care of the Los Angeles Times, Monday afternoon, addressed envelope for reply.

THE NEW ICE AGE
If ice were suddenly wiped off the face of the earth along with our systems of refrigeration, all of the large cities, during the summer time, would find themselves without fresh meat, without fresh milk, or eggs. Butter would be served melted, and a mighty odor of spoiling fish and meat would smite the nostrils.

Photographers would have trouble in getting out gelatin plates, and the enormous mountains of ice cream cones which we consume each day would cease to be. Cheeses now shipped and ripened with the aid of ice would no longer have their form flavor, and the distilleries would have difficulties in controlling their beer and hops.

The farmers would have to stop shipping long trains of refrigerator kept fruits and vegetables from the gardens, from the farms to the city centers. The margarine manufacturers would have a hard time producing the margarine, a butter substitute, and chocolate manufacturers would have to begin all over again back at the time when it was impossible to accomplish some of the processes of chocolate making during the summer.

The silk-worm eggs, accustomed to being retarded by cold until the caterpillars are ready to hatch, would hatch too soon, and this would have a disastrous effect on the silk-stocking industry. No one in the city could "say it with flowers" and the blossoms could no longer be regulated as to blooming time, nor shipped nor stored in lowered temperatures.

The dynamite manufacturers who keep their explosives at low temperatures while nitrate, and the blast furnaces would have their worries also. The artificial diamonds, such as those in California and Florida, which develop on man-made ice, would have to close their doors. While these things are important, I believe the greatest value of refrigeration to the world has been accomplished in handling our meat supply. Much of the trouble and danger, which were formerly due to eating rotten meat, have now been done away with by our modern method of handling meat in a frigid atmosphere. It is also beneficial to the flavor of meat if it is kept awhile, and it is well known that the taste of chicken improves after proper storing. Freezing meat does not impair its value in any way, but actually makes it more tender and more easily digestible. America may well be termed to be "entering upon a new ice age, not destructive like the famous age of millions of years ago, but this time beneficial to life."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Question: J. H. asks: "I wonder if you would give in your column your opinion of cigarette smoking?"
Answer: A moderate amount of cigarette smoking is not necessarily harmful providing you do not inhale the smoke. It is now generally believed that nicotine is taken into the system through smoking, but is burned and destroyed by the fire. However, if you inhale any tar or the substance in a burning cigarette, and I have along in my mouth. Am very nervous and cannot sleep after eating even light food, such as toast and milk. Have gas on my stomach and my head begins to hurt and fast after eating."

A: Your trouble is, at least, gastritis, and you possibly have the start of stomach or duodenal ulcers. The stomach is a sac of the stomach, which is created through dietetic indiscretions. Milk and toast are not particularly light foods, but an exclusive milk diet, especially if you eat it every morning, will prove harmful in your case. Try taking four ounces of certified milk every hour for a few days, and then double the quantity used each day so that you are taking eight ounces every hour early in the morning until you go to bed. If this good diagnostic and have a card-do not relieve you, consult a doctor. He will examine you and the X-ray is used to determine exactly your condition.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS
Careful!
Be sure to remove your horn-rimmed glasses before using a hair curler. If the hot iron should rest on the spectacle rims, along with the hair they are very apt to ignite, as they are highly inflammable.

Right Side of Material
In cutting out dresses or any garment where the right and wrong sides are very nearly alike, take a piece of chalk and mark the right side in several places, then you will have no trouble. The chalk will dust off easily.

Clean and Sanitary
Never have unnecessary furniture or hangings in the sick room. Cover expensive woodwork with layers of newspaper or white cloth. It is not necessary to spoil the tops of good furniture just because they happen to be in a sick room.

Preparation
Don't wait until the day of your party to clean the silver and see if you have sufficient china and glassware. The things are just as important as the things to eat and should be looked after just as systematically.

In a Good Cause
A pin stuck through the cork of the bottle containing poison may give the person searching for medicine a tiny scratch, but it surely will draw their attention to the contents of the bottle. Keep all poisons on the uppermost shelf of the cabinet and be sure the label and there is little likelihood of mistakes.

Just Gently
A head comb will subdue the fire of red hair and darken it harmlessly. Paint the shelves of the medicine cabinet with white paint; then they can be wiped out if any medicine is spilled.

A button bag near the clothes washer is convenient, but it surely will draw their attention to the contents of the bottle. Keep all poisons on the uppermost shelf of the cabinet and be sure the label and there is little likelihood of mistakes.

Vegetable Preparation
Spread a newspaper over your kitchen table before beginning to prepare fruit, hush corn, etc., for meal. This will save you a lot of time when cleaning up as the residue can be rolled into a clean neat bundle for the garbage can.

Greens
Wash all salad greens as soon as they come from market and place them immediately into a cheese-cloth bag and place directly on the ice. When ready to serve they will be fresh and crisp and nothing further will have to be done to them.

Will Stay Firm
It is hard to keep the food chopper firm on the porcelain-top table, but if you will put a piece of sandpaper under the clamps, rough side up, on the edge of the table and then screw down the chopper tightly, the clamps will not work loose and the chopper will stay firmly in place.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 3 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cooking in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

Garnish with marshmallow cherries.

DECISION IN OIL CONTEST DUE TODAY
Action of Deuel Amed at Rio Grande Company Will Be Ruled on by Judge

A decision will be handed down today by Superior Judge Yankwich in the suit brought by Warren K. Deuel against the Rio Grande Oil Company and others, it was announced last night.

Deuel brought suit to set aside an agreement he signed with the defendant oil companies wherein he gave up all claims to portions of the Elwood Terrace oil field which he turned out to be rich in oil production. He asserted that he had discovered the field and had an agreement with the companies to share in it if they went ahead with the development of it. He contended the companies told him the field was no good and that a well that had been sunk would be abandoned because of no production. He asserted he then accepted $2500 for his interest and signed a release. Later, he declares, the well was brought in and was rich in production, and that other paying wells were sunk on the land. He asks that the agreement be set aside on the grounds it was obtained by misrepresentation. He also asks for an accounting.

The decision in the action, the trial of which lasted nearly four weeks, is being awaited with interest by oil men.

LARSEN TO STAND TRIAL FOR BLAST

Grain Exchange Cashier Put Under Bond After Dynamite Charge Hearing

Perry E. Larsen, cashier who, according to his asserted confession to police, dynamited the Los Angeles Grain Exchange on the 3rd inst. in order to cover a shortage in his accounts, was ordered held under $5000 bail to await trial by Superior Court at the conclusion of his preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge McConnell yesterday.

Larsen was prosecuted under the section of the Penal Code dealing with the criminal use of explosives. Police Captain Lynn, called as a witness by Dep. Dist. Atty. Blacklock, testified that Larsen told him he had placed five sticks of dynamite in the office, expecting the explosion to destroy records of an $800 shortage, which auditors later testified existed. Leroy A. McVey, Spring-street hardware dealer, testified that he sold Larsen the dynamite. Police Officer George T. Fisher declared that he arrived at the office following the explosion of one stick of dynamite in time to put out the candles which were burning beneath the fuses of the remaining four sticks.

Mercerized Wax Removes Freckles and Sunburn
Whiten unburned skin and remove freckles and sunburn with mercerized wax. Put the wax briskly into the skin before retiring. Mercerized wax does not burn into the pores, dissolving all impurities and permitting the skin to breathe naturally. It gently peels off the thin layer of bluish skin which brings the smooth, clear and natural skin into view. The complexion is radiantly fresh, smooth, clear and natural and the face looks years younger. Mercerized wax brings out the hidden beauty. Wash and apply twice daily. It is the only skin cream that will disappear if you have your face daily in a lotion made of 1 ounce powdered sandal and 1 half pint with brandy at all drug stores. (Advertisement.)
